

BALLETS LEADING FEATURE AT KEITH'S

Mlle. Albertina Rasch and Her Coryphees Show Unusual Terpsichorean Act.

Mlle. Albertina Rasch, from the Imperial Oper House at Vienna, and her coryphees in "A Ballet Divertissement Classique," carry the headline honors on the midsummer bill at Keith's this week. It is one of the best terpsichorean productions seen in the city, especially in the torrid season. Notwithstanding the oppressive heat, the entire production is one that for effectiveness and excellence is way above the ordinary in this particular line. Mlle. Rasch, Jessie Rozee, and Marie Bamberelli in the several solo numbers to the accompaniment of famous composers, given with capable orchestral assistance under leadership of an accomplished pianist, won merited approval from the large audience attending the opening performance. The continuing stunts, and electrical effects are a big feature.

Two sketches, "Some Politician" and "Collusion," are presented by capable comedians and shared honors of the bill. The former presents a political satire with Peggy Cameron, Eleanor Merrick, Frederick Hand, and Joseph Merrick in the leading roles and the latter has Miss Clayton, Herbert Griffin, and Margaret Vinton in the principal parts. The comedy section of the bill is in the hands of Harry Ross, a peculiar "nut," and Hooty and Lender, who present "Something to Talk About."

Andrew Tombs and Lola Wentworth, who have been seen here in the "Bride Shop," offer a potpourri of tuncful offerings, in which Miss Wentworth's charming voice is heard to advantage, while Mr. Tombs' comedy plays him in a class all his own as a comedian. "The Volunteer" is a musical comedy with an original offering of songs and comedy. The four readings are sensational jokers of human beings.

The Pathé News review presents a pictorial review of events of international importance. The orchestral programs are features of the week's bill.

GARDEN.

With a story that is clean and wholesome "The Bugle Call," in which the Triangle film forces introduce William Collier, Jr., as a star at the Garden Theater this week, is full of real thrills. The hero of the story is the motherless son of the commanding officer of an army post. The father and boy are great pals, and together reverse the memory of the dead mother. The father, mother and marriage, a most lovable young woman. The boy, who represents the coming of the new wife, although he has a difficult time to prevent himself becoming very fond of her.

An Indian raid calls out most of the troops and the post is threatened. The boy has been left in care of his stepmother. When the Indians are about to overcome the post, by a trick the boy turns them away.

Young Collier gives a splendid performance of the boy with Vandyke Standing as the father, and Anna Lehr as the mother. The production is especially notable for the typical Indian settings in the mountainous country where the army post is located, and the expert photography that has preserved the scene in such a way that it is as if the viewer were actually there.

Hank Mann in "Spark and Hearts" provides the comedy feature of the program with the International Film Service pictures of the explosion in New York harbor to complete the program. This program will also be shown today.

Tomorrow, Thursday, and Friday Bill Burke will be seen in "A Midnight Riot," the thirteenth chapter of "Gloria's Romance," by Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Hughes. "The Highest Bid" with William Russell as star, will be the supplementary attraction Saturday. Frances Nelson will be seen in "The Decoy," and Mary Pickford in "A Maid to Order."

STRAND.

That the David W. Griffith film productions reached a higher artistic mark than his contemporaries gave him credit for in the early days of the film drama is demonstrated by "Gold and Glitter," a biographical picture of Griffith himself, which is easily the star feature of the Strand for the week. Lillian Gish and Lionel Barrymore are the particular stars of this one-reel picture, although Dorothy Gish is also seen in a small part and also two others who have since become film celebrities. The picture was produced by Griffith, and while his name doesn't appear in the cast there is a strong suspicion that he also plays one of the parts.

"A Child of Destiny," melodrama with Irene Fenwick as star, is the long feature of the program. Both will be seen again today.

Tomorrow DeWolf Hopper appears as a film star in the "Triangle production," "Mr. Goodie," the Sachem Hopper will be seen as an old man of philanthropic inclinations, and with the comedy "Fables of Trouble," featuring Harry McCoy, will form the program for Thursday.

Friday and Saturday the V. L. S. E. company will present Anita Stewart in "The Darling of Diana," with a comedy, "Hubby's Relatives," featuring Harry Myers and Rosemary Theby, as the secondary feature.

GLEN ECHO

For the first time this season, the spotlight played on the dancers last night in the big pavilion at Glen Echo Park.

The "Spotlight dance" was reintroduced as the first of a series of features that will be added to the dance program. It evidently met with the full approval of the dancing set, as encores were vociferously demanded.

This is the beginning of novelties that will be introduced during the remainder of the season.

While the warm weather makes life a burden to those who, staying at home, it serves to add to the charms of Glen Echo.

Prouder of Her Baby Than of Her Laurels As a Screen Star

Alice Joyce Disrupts Studio
When She and Little Alice Mary Appear.

NAMED FOR MARY PICKFORD

Mother and Aunt Provide Name for Newest Member of the Moore Family.

It is probable that if a vote were taken at the present time as to the most popular personality in motion pictures the result would be an overwhelming majority for an individual that isn't in motion pictures at all. This individual is a young starlet, Alice Mary Moore, named in honor of her mother and her aunt—Alice Joyce and Mary Pickford, respectively. And the young lady is just about four months old at present writing.

Not only is little Miss Moore popular with the patrons of films because she happens to be the first baby in film of real royal birth, but she is equally popular with the actors and actresses, and her mother has been named by the Vitaphone company that as it hopes to continue in business it would greatly improve the company's chances if she would leave baby Alice Mary at home.

The Vitaphone people are really in earnest about the matter because Miss Joyce—she is really Mrs. Tom Moore, and therefore the mother-in-law of Mary Pickford and Gail Kane, who are the wives of the other two stars—has been named by the Vitaphone company that as it hopes to continue in business it would greatly improve the company's chances if she would leave baby Alice Mary at home.

Andrew Tombs and Lola Wentworth, who have been seen here in the "Bride Shop," offer a potpourri of tuncful offerings, in which Miss Wentworth's charming voice is heard to advantage, while Mr. Tombs' comedy plays him in a class all his own as a comedian. "The Volunteer" is a musical comedy with an original offering of songs and comedy. The four readings are sensational jokers of human beings.

Knows All About Babies.

Alice Joyce is prouder of being the mother of Alice Mary than she is of being a film star. She is the most unashamed actress-mother in the business, and she declares that instead of finding her popularity decreased, it has actually increased. Her daily mail is heavier than that of the people who write to her are very solicitous about the baby.

"I know young mothers will appreciate it," declares Miss Moore, "but you can't think how embarrassed I was not to know how to hold the baby. Just think of it—I've been acting parts on the stage and in films for years that required me to handle infants, but I really didn't know how to hold my own baby."

"But I know now. And there isn't much about babies that I haven't learned in the last few months. Before I returned to the studio I took every bit of care of Alice Mary myself. I wanted to know all about her and all about caring for her. Until a few weeks ago I wouldn't let nurse do a thing but sit around and give advice."

"And if there is any little thing that I overlooked in that time my friends all over the United States have told me about it in their letters to me. It's nice to be a motion picture star—but, just between us—it's a lot more like being a mother, the dearest, sweetest baby daughter in the whole wide world."

What Camera Missed.
A dispatch from Beaumont, eighty Echo and both yesterday and Sunday Capital folks turned out by the thousands for the opening of the new theatre. The greater part of the crowd had arrived last night by the time the first of the motion pictures had been flashed on the screen and from then on until midnight there was something doing every minute. Out in front of the theatre a long line waited for a chance at the thrills of the ride, while others were taking their turns at the gravity, midway, and all of the other attractions that make a trip to the park so pleasant.

EXPLOSION FILMS BEING SHOWN HERE

Pictures of Havoc on Black Tom Island at Moore's Garden.

Washingtonians interested in the gigantic explosion of munitions in New York harbor Sunday morning were astonished yesterday to see a complete series of motion pictures of the fire and explosion caused by the explosion as it was shown at Moore's Garden Theatre under the auspices of the International Film Service.

A special feature of most of these pictures lies in the fact that many of them were made before dawn this morning by the light of the fire itself. The pictures show the work that was done by the harbor fire forces and the volunteer fire fighters in attempting to extinguish the blaze. They also show the wreckage of buildings on Black Tom Island.

The pictures were delivered to exhibitors here in Washington in less than twenty-four hours and a subsequence states that shrapnel shells and pieces of metal were falling all about the camera man while he was getting the pictures.

Although almost surrounded by flames, they managed to escape without being burned, but their costumes were ruined by the stream from a chemical fire extinguisher, which had been hurriedly brought from another car.

Volia Smith, playing the lead in "Universal's feature," "The Eagle's Wings," under the direction of Robert Leondard, has gone to Sacramento with the latter's company, has spent the making of scenes at the capital. San Francisco and other coast cities will also be used as camera material for this company before its return.

Neil Shipman, in the brief vacation between the completion of the Vitaphone feature, "Through the Wall," and the beginning of her engagement with the Fox Company, has spent the biggest part of this time in her beloved pastime—swimming. Her daily long swims in the ocean brought to her last week the offer of instruction at a beach swimming school.

Church of England Seeking Self-Rule

Power of Veto Alone to Remain With Parliament Under New Plan.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—Home rule for the Church of England, in distinction from state control of the religion, is the subject of a bill introduced in the House of Commons today. The bill, which is the work of the committee appointed three years ago by the Archbishops of Canterbury and York to consider problems of church reform.

The committee was appointed to consider "what changes are advisable in order to secure in the relation of church and state a public expression of the national recognition of religion."

U. S. CANNOT AVERT ELLIS ISLAND DANGER

Secretary Wilson Wants Federal Law to Govern Harbor Handling of Explosives.

The explosion in New York Harbor, particularly the damage to Ellis Island, has brought up anew the question of jurisdiction and authority over New York Harbor and freight shipments and transshipments there-in.

In every annual report of the Department of Labor since 1912 Secretary Wilson has called the attention of Congress to the fact that no jurisdiction can be found to exist and has recommended that Federal laws be enacted compelling barges bearing explosives to anchor further from Ellis Island.

The danger to that place and the immigration held there was pointed out in the Secretary's latest report. He expressed the belief that Congress alone can relieve the danger, and asked it to act, pointing out the emergency that would arise if a catastrophe should occur as a result of inaction.

The Secretary's Views.

The report is in part as follows:
"The immigration station at Ellis Island is endangered by the commercial handling of high explosives near by. For nearly three years this has caused much concern for the safety of the station and its occupants. The explosion in the winter of 1911 in connection with the transshipment of explosives at a railroad wharf. The explosion occurred as a police officer was loading a barge. It damaged the immigration station to the extent of more than $25,000, and would probably have caused great loss of life but for the fortunate fact that the explosion there had been no arrivals of immigrants at the station.

Must Have Legislation.

"In consequence of this destructive explosion and of the fact that explosives are commonly transhipped within about half that distance from the station, efforts have been made to lessen the danger of those transshipments to persons and property on Ellis Island. It seems to be very doubtful, however, from the voluminous correspondence and reports upon the subject on file in the Bureau of Immigration whether any remedy is possible without Congressional legislation.

"The persistent efforts of immigrant officials at Ellis Island to protect the station and its occupants from the danger they anticipate appear from the bureau files to have been baffled. "Apparently this problem presents a double aspect. The menace to the Ellis Island station in (1) from vessels loaded with explosives and sailing the waters of the harbor in that neighborhood or anchoring there, and (2) from shipments at nearby docks.

Club on Outing.

Members of the Commerce Department Club last night enjoyed an excursion down the Potomac. The steamer St. Johns left the wharf with members at 4:30 o'clock and returned at 11:30 o'clock. G. E. Oiler, president of the club, was in charge of the trip. He replaced Dr. Luther F. Wilmer, who was unable to be present.

Forty-five Typhoid Deaths, 1915.

The number of cases of typhoid reported at the Health Department during the year 1915 was 39, forty-five resulting in the death of the patient. In 1914 there were 32 cases and forty-two deaths. In 1912 fifty-seven deaths were attributed to the disease.

How It Is Done in the Army.

During the next two years there was one case among 2,000 men who were vaccinated, the patient being a man who was inoculated during the incubation period of the fever. Only one case was developed among the 15,000 soldiers mobilized in Texas in 1911. During the period of mobilization there were 21 cases of typhoid reported in California and San Antonio, which were frequently visited by the troops.

Jess Willard Says:

"Take Nuxated Iron

If You Want Plenty of 'Stay There' Strength and Endurance and Health and Muscles Like Mine."

A Hitherto Untold Secret of His Great Victories Over Jack Johnson and Frank Moran.

Ordinary Nuxated Iron Will Often Increase the Strength and Endurance of Delicate, Nervous Folks 200 Per Cent
In Two Weeks' Time.

SPECIAL NOTE—Dr. E. Sauer, a well known physician who has studied widely in both this country and Europe, has been especially employed to make a thorough investigation into the real secret of the great strength, power and endurance of Jess Willard, and the marvelous value of nuxated iron as a strength builder.

NEW YORK—Upon being interviewed at his apartment in the Colonial Hotel, Mr. Willard said: "Yes, I have a chemist with me to study the value of different foods and products as to their power to produce great strength and endurance, both of which are so necessary in the prize ring. On his recommendation I have often taken nuxated iron and I have particularly advocated the free use of iron by all those who wish to obtain great physical and mental power. Without it, I am sure that I should never have been able to whip Jack Johnson so completely and easily and to beat my training partner, my boy Frank Moran, I regularly took nuxated iron, and I am certain that it was a most important factor in my winning so easily."

Continuing, Dr. Sauer said, "Mr. Willard's case is only one of hundreds which I could cite from my own personal experience which proves conclusively the astonishing power of nuxated iron to restore strength and vitality even in most complicated chronic conditions."

Not long ago a man came to me who was nearly half a century old, and asked me to give him a preliminary examination for life insurance. I was astonished to find him with the blood pressure of a boy of 30 and as full of vigor, vim and vitality as a young man; in fact a young man he really was, notwithstanding his age. The secret he said was taking iron—nuxated iron had filled him with renewed life.
At 30 he was in bad health; at 40 careless and neglectful. Now at 50 a miracle of vitality and his face beaming with the buoyancy of youth. As I have said a hundred times over, iron works at all stages of life. I am convinced that the lives of thousands of people would be saved, who now die every year from pneumonia, uric acid, consumption, kidney, liver and heart trouble, etc. The real and true cause which started their diseases was nothing more nor less than a weakened condition brought on by lack of iron in the blood. Iron is absolutely necessary to enable your blood to change food into living tissue. Without it, no matter how much or what you eat, your food merely passes through you without doing you any good. You don't get the strength out of it, and as a consequence you become weak, pale and sickly looking just like a plant trying to grow in a soil deficient of iron. If you are not strong or well you eat, you don't eat make the following test: See how lone you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two free-grain tablets of ordinary nuxated iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. I have seen dozens of nervous run-down people who were all-ing in and while double their strength, endurance and entirely get rid of all symptoms of dyspepsia, liver and other troubles in from ten to fourteen days simply by taking iron in the proper form. And this after they had in some cases been doctoring for months without obtaining any benefit. But don't take the old forms of reduced iron, iron acetate or tincture of iron simply to save a few cents. You must take iron in a form that can be easily absorbed and assimilated like nuxated iron if you want it to do you any good.

Otherwise it may prove worse than useless.

Many an athlete or prize fighter has won the world's championship by the secret of great strength and endurance and filled his blood with iron before he went into the arena, while many another has gone to his defeat simply for the lack of iron.—E.
Sauer, M. D.

NOTE—Nuxated Iron, recommended above by Dr. Sauer is not a patent medicine nor secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists and whose iron constituents are widely prescribed by eminent physicians everywhere. Unlike the older inorganic iron products, it is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, make them black, nor upset the stomach; on the contrary, it is a most perfect remedy, in nearly all forms of indigestion, as well as for nervous, run-down conditions. The manufacturers have such great confidence in Nuxated Iron that they offer to forfeit $100.00 to any charitable institution if they cannot take any man or woman on a free trial, and increase their strength 200 per cent, or over, in four weeks' time, provided they have no serious organic trouble. If they do not, they refund your money if it does not at least double your strength and endurance in ten days' time. It is distributed by J. C. O'Donnell's O'Donnell's drug store, People's Drug Store, and all other druggists.—Adv.

I consider that plenty of iron in my blood is the secret of my great strength, power and endurance.

which started their diseases was nothing more nor less than a weakened con-
blood. Iron is absolutely necessary to enable your blood to change food into
living tissue. Without it, no matter
how much or what you eat, your food
strength out of it, and as a consequence
you become weak, pale and sickly looking just like a plant trying to grow in
a soil deficient of iron. If you are not
strong or well you eat, you don't eat
make the following test: See how lone
without becoming tired. Next take two
free-grain tablets of ordinary nuxated
iron three times per day after meals for
ing in and while double their strength,
days simply by taking iron in the
without obtaining any benefit. But don't take the old forms of reduced iron,
iron acetate or tincture of iron
take iron in a form that can be easily
absorbed and assimilated like nuxated
iron if you want it to do you any good.
less.

won the world's championship by the secret of great strength and endurance and filled his blood with iron before he went into the arena, while
many another has gone to his defeat
simply for the lack of iron.—E.
Sauer, M. D.

NOTE—Nuxated Iron, recommended above
by Dr. Sauer is not a patent medicine nor
secret remedy, but one which is well known
to druggists and whose iron constituents are
everywhere. Unlike the older inorganic iron
products, it is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, make them black, nor upset
the stomach; on the contrary, it is a most
perfect remedy, in nearly all forms of indig-
conditions. The manufacturers have such
great confidence in Nuxated Iron that they
offer to forfeit $100.00 to any charitable in-
strength 200 per cent, or over, in four
weeks' time, provided they have no serious
fund your money if it does not at least double
